

Goodbye, Independent Assessments!

Earlier this month, the state and territory disability ministers met with the Minister for the NDIS, Lisa Reynolds, and rejected the federal government's plan to introduce compulsory assessments.

Thank you

You stopped these unfair assessments and helped secure the NDIS for all of us! We want to thank everyone who spoke out, as well as those who truly listened to our concerns and responded to them.

This is a monumental achievement.

Updates to NDIS pricing

On 1 July 2021, the NDIS released the latest pricing arrangements and price limits for the 2021-2022 financial year. After taking some time to understand the new pricing, we have updated our fee schedule – effective from 19 July 2021.

The new price limits reflect the increases in super guarantee percentage and to the industry award. Thank you for choosing MACS to provide your flexible support and services.
